

Home Builders Institute

hbi.org

Edward Harrison

Chief Financial Officer and Vice President for Financial Services

Edward Harrison is the chief financial officer and vice president for financial services of the Home Builders Institute. Harrison is a licensed certified public accountant in Maryland. He joined HBI in 1992 and became chief financial officer in 2010.

Harrison's leadership is evident in his direct communications with HBI's auditor, Tate and Tryon, as well as his excellent working relationship with the U.S. Department of Labor on indirect cost rate and contract negotiations. He was instrumental in implementing Deltek's electronic expense and time reporting system at HBI.

Edward is a member of the Maryland Association of Certified Public Accountants. He volunteers at the First Baptist Church of Highland Park where he enjoys working with the teenagers.

A native of Lawrenceville Va., Harrison graduated magna cum laude from Virginia State University in Petersburg with a bachelor of science degree in Accounting.

The Workforce Development Arm of the National Association of Home Builders